

tinue to prosper for Day Book readers and its editor, and it will if they only REASON and do their own thinking. Such is the desire of—Clements.

SOCIETY FRIVOLS HAVE NO INTEREST TO THIS BUD

Washington. — Having broken all records as a knitter of wool socks and fuzzy mufflers, Miss Mary Graham, daughter of Assistant Attorney General S. M. Graham, will forego charity work for a while and take time to take her social bow to Washington.

Miss Graham is an unusually intellectual girl, more interested in serious study than in society.

The wise girl is the one who appreciates the business sagacity of the young man who makes a solitaire answer both as an engagement ring and a Christmas present.

SPECIAL BAR PERMIT FIGHT PUT OVER ONE WEEK

The city council fight over the amendment of the special bar permit ordinance will be postponed for a week. Entreaties from both the wets and drys caused Ald. Nance of the health committee to relent in his demand that the council vote on the amendment tonight.

The change asked would cause special bar permits to expire at 1 o'clock instead of 3, as they do under the present law. It would also require a ten-day notice from all clubs asking a permit.

The Women's City club and anti-vice forces have fostered the change in the bar permit law. They claim that the hours between 1 and 3 a. m. are the worst. The liquor forces argue that personal liberty is being trampled.

The members of the new morals commission will be named at tonight's council meeting if Mayor Harrison has made his selections.

BELATED CHRISTMAS FOR POOR CHILDREN

An after-Christmas treat for children whom Santa Claus overlooked was given by the Cynthia Westover Alden Sunshine society on Dec. 26. Forty-seven children who had received no gifts on the 25th were entertained at the club through the afternoon.

Miss Alice Manchec, a kindergarten teacher, played games and sang for them. A professional story teller told them fairy tales. They raced and romped to their hearts' content and each boy and girl received a box of candy as a gift to take home.

ENJOINED

"Briscoe has stopped giving people checks."

"Why?"

"The banks wouldn't let him waste any more blank check books."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.